personalize employee relocations while controlling costs with our configurable, purpose-built core/flex solution

Benefits Builder offers the freedom to choose the benefits that best fit each employee's unique needs. Designed by Cartus for global core/flex programs, this industry-exclusive tool enables companies to deliver personalized support while staying within budget, ensuring a seamless relocation journey for employees and mobility managers alike.

an employee-first approach

Core/flex programs are a proven strategy for aligning business goals with employee needs. By prioritizing employee satisfaction and offering personalized relocation support, companies benefit from improved talent retention, better manage costs with reduced exceptions, and deeper DEI integration. This approach supports employees and their families while strengthening organizational success.
